Hi [REDACTED]

One amendment: "In view of the urgency to protect the Party's reputation in the present situation it has been determined invoke the powers delegated to the General Secretary or other national officer of the Party under Chapter 1 Clause VIII.5 of the rules to impose this suspension forthwith, subject to the approval of the next meeting of the NEC."

Can you get that out now?

The Party has reason to believe that this is your social media account. Can you confirm that this is the case? The Party further has reason to believe that you posted this statement yourself. Can you confirm that this is the case?

If so, please explain the reason for posting this status.

Chapter 2, Clause I.4.B states "A member of the Party who supports any candidate who stands against an official Labour candidate, or publicly declares their intent to stand against a Labour candidate, shall automatically be ineligible to be or remain a Party member." What is your response to the allegation that you are in breach of this rule?

Hi

Would you be able to draft a suspension letter, based on that one piece [REDACTED] today, and send to me and [REDACTED] to check?

See [REDACTED] guidance below

I agree.

[REDACTED]

Can we get a suspension letter out with that evidence today? I guess we give 7 days for the reply.

Heya,

Yes I agree. It appears to be clearly supporting him to be re-elected as an independent MP against a Labour candidate.

Good spot. I think that it definitely qualifies as support for a candidate standing in opposition to an official Labour candidate. Would appreciate the thoughts of others though.

Best,

Subject: [REDACTED] Rebecca Massey Hi,

look at the Rebecca Massey case further. Looking at her Twitter, I believe this tweet warrants autoexclusion:

<https://twitter.com/BeckyCheAbas/status/1192953533257175040>

It's a clear endorsement of Chris Williamson, independent candidate standing against Labour. She's previously received two Reminders, and the Twitter account is definitely hers.

Let me know if that's fine and I'll log, Thanks
